

What does your Inspiration mean?

What does inspiration mean to you? Why do you want to be a nurse? Inspiration means a lot to me; for this purpose, my mother and grandmother inspires me a lot. My mom is my number one supporter, and always told everyone how excited she was for me to fulfill my dreams of becoming a nurse. My mom would always tell me "Niya all your dreams can come true if you just believe in yourself". When going to work with my mother I had made my mind up to be set on what I wanted to do once I got out of high school. Those are some hard-working ladies I have watched them work long hours and still come home to take care of what was needed. I was in a time in my life where I had a lot of tuff challenges where I knew I needed to get my life together. I had started school at Concorde, I stopped going after going through a miscarriage and trying to work while going to school without a car was very hard. After dropping out of the first school it put a toll on me knowing I wanted to become a nurse, so I tried going back this time I went to FSCJ, and they had me complete a lot classes to tell me that I won't be able to be in the nursing program, so I was back in my dark spot.

I knew I wanted to become a nurse and I found another school named Keiser university where I completed all the classes. I got to the point where I was about to get into the nursing course until they withdrawal me without my permission or having me signed anything. That totally broke me, I went to a nursing extern invite and sat at a table some girl I didn't know told me about Chamberlain, and everything is going great I love it here. It's the best decision I ever made. I wanted to be comforter to others and be able to help them, I love helping people. I really think everyone deserves someone that has patience and will take the time to go that extra mile for them especially when they're in medical care, I wanted to be that nurse.

This whole time being in NR- 103 I don't think anything was challenging to me everything was very explanatory and simple. I think again professor Hagy was a great teacher and was always there to help me and other students in the classroom. I think NR 103 prepared me for success at Chamberlain. It taught me how to prepare my schedule, time management, and organization. I prepared to continue my journey through chamberlain, with this school it's a lot of resources and I am going to use them to the best of my ability. I plan on becoming an L&D, peds, Nicu, mother and baby, or psych nurse working with the babies is my dream. The most important lesson I have learned was hanging with "so called fiends" aren't always okay because most people pray on your downfall and makes it seem like they are here for but be hating on the low.
