

Quiz 3 – Evidence based

1-A nurse researcher develops a study access health attitude pacific islanders across the lifespan. The nurse researcher discusses the process to ensure that the sample is representative of the population. Which statement should the nurse use to describe this process

- a-Select several individuals in each age group to ensure that they represent participant across the lifespan
- b-I will make sure they are enough participants of each group
- c-By picking participant of potential sample to ensure appropriate number of clients
- d-Each group will make sure that we have a large enough sample to ensure that all the population members are represented

2-A nurse is interested in reviewing the qualitative lecture about the client perceptiveness and reaction related to diagnose with terminal cancer. When reviewing research article which is the best way to access if the research article is qualitative?

- a-Locate the narrative data provided by the study participant
- b-determine if the citation and reference are correct
- c-Locate the figure that report the statistical data gathered
- d-read the discussion selection of the author preceptive

3-a nurse is working with the respiratory therapist to determine which of these two-incentive spirometer is more effective for the use with the population of postoperative client. A random assessment will designate design group with each of the incentive spirometer. The nurse will design a qualitative improvement project introducing retrospective chart reviews of the client using one incentive spirometer or other. the chart will review and collect data on postoperative vital signs and breath signs 24 hours after surgery of the client using each spirometer. the nurse researcher faculty reviews the proposal what feedback do you anticipate research will have for the nurse assigning the project

- a-the project needs more detail and resources than we have
- b-it is not important to compare these two spirometers
- c-I think u need to come up with a totally new idea because this would not work
- d-You may want to get nursing student to collect data for you from those chart