

Week 1: Apply the concepts of data-information-knowledge-wisdom (DIKW) to a situation in your current area of practice. Now take that example one step further as you consider how nursing informatics can support or improve that transformation and your active role as an INS in the process.