

Week 2 Weekly Group Study Questions

Week 2: Weekly Group Study

True or False: Topical treatment is preferred for severe fungal superficial infections and more minor fungal infections may require oral therapy.

ANSWER:

FALSE: Topical treatment is preferred for minor fungal infections and more severe superficial fungal infections may require oral therapy.

Week 2: Weekly Group Study

Which medication(s) carry an increased risk for hypotension with patients on antihypertensive medications?

- A. Albendazole
- B. Mebendazole
- C. Praziquantel pamoate
- D. Ivermectin & Moxidectin

Answer: D

Week 2: Weekly Group Study

Which of the following topical anti-fungal medications would be used to treat an infection of the nails?

1. Efinaconazole
2. Nystatin
3. Fluconazole