

Question 1

1 out of 1 points

Correct

Which of the following statements about malignant melanomas is true?

Selected Answer:

Correct.

The prognosis is directly related to the thickness of the lesion

Answers:

a.

They usually occur in older adult males

b.

The patient has no family history of melanoma

c.

They are common in blacks

Correct.

The prognosis is directly related to the thickness of the lesion

Question 2

1 out of 1 points

Correct

Carl, age 78, is brought to the office by his son, who states that his father has been unable to see clearly since last night. Carl reports that his vision is “like looking through a veil.” He also sees floaters and flashing lights but is not having any pain. What do you suspect?

Selected Answer:

Correctc.

Retinal detachment