

NRNP 6541 - Week 2 iHuman Assignment

Student Name

1 year old female

2'7" 22 lbs. (10 kg)

Reason for encounter: Well Visit age 12 months with new onset of dry, itchy skin patches.

Observations: Patient is laying on exam table in diapers.

Skin is warm and dry.

Questions:

- How can I help her today?
  - We are here for a 12 month well visit today.
- What has been happening since her last visit?
  - I think I already told you.
- Does she have any other symptoms that you would like to discuss?
  - Yes. I am concerned about these dry red patches on her skin.
- When did her rash start?
  - 3 weeks ago
- What are the events surrounding the start of her rash?
  - I don't know. I just started noticing it about 3 weeks ago. Just a few little lesions. More recently it has gotten worse. Since she seemed fine, I waited for this visit I already had scheduled. Was that the right thing to do?
- On what part of her body did the rash start and where did it spread?
  - These lesions started behind her knees, and she has had a few in the creases of her elbows.
- Does her rash come and go?
  - I'm not sure. First I thought I saw something, but then it went away, but now it came back and is worse. So I guess the answer is really yes.
- Is her rash painful or itchy?
  - Itchy
- Does she have any other symptoms associated with her rash?
  - Not that I have noticed.
- Does anyone in her family have a similar rash?
  - No
- What treatments has she had for the rash?
  - I put some lotion on it, but it didn't seem to help.
- Does anything make her rash better or worse?
  - Not that I have noticed.
- Does the rash keep her from sleeping?