

NRNP 6560 Final Exam Review

General Pre and Post Op Care

- Hemoglobin in relation to surgery
- Predictors of increased morbidity and mortality post-operatively
- Risks factors for poor wound healing
- Medications the patient should take on the morning of surgery
- Positioning in the PACU

Head, Neck, Esophagus, and Diaphragm

- Sudden sensorineural hearing loss (SSHL) diagnosis and treatment
- Otitis Externa – secondary treatment
- Non-Hodgkin's lymphoma- treatment related complications
- Achalasia risk factors
- Traumatic diaphragmatic hernia repair

Cardiology

- EKG interpretation of different types of MI according to the leads presenting with signs of ischemia
- Society of Thoracic Surgeon's statistics and synopsis regarding patient outcomes after coronary artery bypass grafting and mortality
- INR management
- Mitral stenosis with catheter-based balloon mitral valvotomy and reduction of the transvalvular pressure gradient
- Types of aortic aneurysms and immediate surgery

Pulmonary and Shock

- Fatty Lipoma
- Thymoma and autoimmune disorders
- Positive TB skin test and when treatment is needed
- Cardiac pressures related to shock and PE
- Treatment for neurogenic shock, distributive-septic shock, and cardiogenic shock