

- Question 1

Andrew is a 37 y/o male who comes to the clinic with the following symptoms: insomnia, feelings of worthlessness, and being easily fatigued. Given his symptoms the most likely diagnosis would be:

Selected Answer:  Minor depression

Answers: Major depression

 Minor depression

Suicidal ideation

Anxiety

- Question 2

1 out of 1 points

Which vaccine is required at birth of a newborn?

Selected Answer:  Hepatitis B

Answers: Hepatitis A

 Hepatitis B

DTAP

Tdap

- Question 3

1 out of 1 points

Andrew, a 41 y/o male resident of Oklahoma, presents to the clinic in July with the following symptoms: fever, chills, severe headache photophobia, and myalgia. He states that since his fever occurred 2 days ago, he now has this rash of petechiae on wrists, forearms, and ankles. The first line pharmacological treatment for Andrew would include: